One of Dolola Carmichael's clients provided us with some feedback during a recent interview. Her visit to Alpha's Glory came about as the result of a friend suggesting that she visit Alpha's Glory to see what information and guidance might be available to her for dealing with her children diagnosed with ADHD. Dolola's client said the parenting classes at Alpha's Glory provided her with "remedies to handle her children's behaviors" as well as serving as an outlet for the issues she frequently experiences while dealing with a teenager. She said she would recommend Alpha's Glory to others because she felt loved, was provided with emotional support, and witnessed kind-hearted people helping the community of lower-income people.

Another client, enrolled in our pregnancy classes, said that she not only gets baby supplies for her newborn, but has also experienced many other benefits from being enrolled in our Mentoring Moms program. She experienced healing from a past abortion and from emotional abuse, as well as being introduced to Jesus. This client, who sees Linda Fournier, said that she would recommend Alpha's Glory because "it is a really beautiful environment for single moms and moms that are pregnant." She also mentioned that Alpha's Glory has helped her in so many other ways. This dear client went on to deliver twins.

Mother's Day

If you are looking for a unique way to say "Thank you!" to your mom this Mother's Day, please consider a commemorative gift in honor or memory of your mom.

We will take that gift and use it to help walk alongside young moms to educate and offer practical assistance. Often these women are in crisis situations and make the difficult decision to give birth to their child when those around them are urging them to end their pregnancy at an abortion center. Some are single moms who are alone with the responsibility of raising their other children. Each day when the doors open at Alpha's Glory, God's love and light touches and changes the lives of these precious women, giving them hope and encouragement.

What better way to honor your mother than by helping another mother during a time of great need in her life. We will acknowledge your gift with a card and also in an upcoming newsletter if you desire. On the enclosed certificate, indicate the name of your mother along with her address. In the case of a memorial, we will send the tribute letter to your designee.

The gift you give today makes a difference for a lifetime.
